Cowbird Outsmarted
(The Aniston, Ala. Star)

Taking note of a Smithsonian Institution bulletin which explains how certain of our feathered friends have developed simple but effective means of dealing with their own brand of subversives, the Christian Science Monitor draws an amusing parallel between what has happened in the avian world and what might be done by way of remedying a similar problem confronting humankind.

It seems that the feathered offender is the notorious cowbird, which likes to leave its eggs in other birds' nests. Being too heavy for the owners to move and often indistinguishable from their own, the cowbird eggs are hatched along with the legitimate brood. And when the baby cowbirds emerge, they are quite likely to crowd the fledgling of the rightful occupants out of the nest and set up a de facto regime of their own.

However, the Smithsonian Institution's ornithologists have established that this violation of the home has been countered by yellow warblers, the strategy being simply to build a new floor on top of the cowbird eggs, leaving them in the cellar, as it were, where they stay cool and never hatch. The warbler family thereby is enabled to enjoy its happy home.

"Perhaps," suggests the Monitor, "some of our harried officials could take a useful hint from the warbler as they direct their zeal toward protecting our institutions from human subversives."

Did Forrest Say "Git Thar Fustest"?

(Richmond, Va., Times-Dispatch)
General Nathan Bedford Forrest, the blacksmith's son who became one of the South's great cavalry leaders in the Civil War, carved up many foemen with his razor-sharp cavalry saber, was himself wounded several times and had 29 horses shot from under him. Most people are only vaguely aware of the foregoing facts, and think of Forrest primarily as the military leader who was reputed to have said "Git thar fustest with the mostest."

Did he ever say this? Recent discovery of a letter of his in Memphis would seem to indicate that he did. It is one of the few known letters General Forrest still in existence. An extract follows:
"Der Sir Your of 22 from Memphis with your Mas from Brooksville of the 1st reached me on my arlval this morning I have not had time to se what I can do in the way of Raising Money but from all I can see and learn to day I fear I will be little chance to raise Money her in Little Secures I will promiss to do my best."

The foregoing would seem to lend credence to "Git thar fustest with the mostest." However, it is doubtful if Forrest actually used such crude phraseology, except possibly in jest. The Dictionary of American Biography says he was "able to speak and write clear and grammatical English," but that he had an utter inability to learn to spell. He also used "a few quaint dialectal expressions, such as 'mout' for might, and 'fit' for fight."

Whatever the facts, General Forrest is almost sure to go down in history not for his mastery of victory at Brice's Cross Roads, or for his courage in stopping a lynch mob alone with a knife in his hands, but for the universally quoted illiterate shorthand connected with his name.

Witnesses Are Heard in Saline Shortage

BENTON (AP) — A grand jury investigating a $17,115.65 shortage in the Saline County treasury's accounts was still in session at noon today with no indication as to when a report might be expected. The jury, which began the probe yesterday, recalled resigned County Treasurer Bruno Moore for another hour's testimony this morning. County Judge Charles Smithers also was summoned into the jury room.

Ten witnesses, including Moore, testified yesterday. Prosecutor Joe McCoy says that Moore, who resigned Tuesday, had admitted in a sworn statement that he misappropriated the money. McCoy quoted Moore's statement as saying the money was used in finance a losing abstract business which Moore once owned and to pay medical bills for his late father.

Another witness was former Circuit Judge Roy Danuser, who appeared before the grand jury at his own request. Danuser's attorneys later issued to newsmen a statement signed in Moore's name. The statement said that on Feb. 1953, Moore gave Danuser a check for $29,280 in payment for National Title and Abstract of Benton.

The statement continued: "I endorsed this check and delivered it to Mr. Danuser with the notation on the check that it was for treasury commissions and to me. I called the bank and procured them to cash the check. Continued on Page Five

President to Take Tax Plan Before People

By RX CHANY
WASHINGTON (UP) — President Eisenhower plans soon to make a radio-television appeal for public support in his effort to stem a Democratic drive in Congress to cut personal income taxes, it was learned today.

A high Republican source revealed that Mr. Eisenhower is determined to put over his present tax program which rules out income tax cuts this year while the government still is running in the red.

Democrats have been whipping up support for a boost in income tax exemptions which would deprive the administration of a big piece of revenue.

The GOP source said the President's planned nationwide radio-television appeal would be designed to head off this politically appealing move, if possible.

Sen. Walter F. George (D-Ga.) senior Democrat on the Senate Finance Committee, has proposed that the exemption be increased to $800 this year and $1,000 next year.

Democrats in the House, where tax legislation must originate, have talked in terms of a $100 increase. They have tried in vain to insert such a provision in a general tax revision bill which the tax-writing ways & means committee has been working on for several weeks.

There has been some talk — mostly from Democrats — that the Republicans might yield to the pressure and go to bat themselves for an increase in personal exemptions.

To Let Bids on 67 Work at Texarkana

LITTLE ROCK (UP) — The Arkansas State Highway Commission will receive bids March 11 on some 60 miles of road and bridge projects in 10 counties.

The projects, advertised yesterday, were:
Miller County — 6.7 miles, including bridges, of grading, drainage and paving of the Texarkana-Paups spur road, state highway 67.
Lonoke County — 22.8 miles widening and resurfacing Pulaski County line-Carlisle Road, state highway 70, and 10 miles, including bridges, of grading, drainage and surfacing Coy-Lonoke road, state highway 31.
Prairie County — 11.5 miles grading, drainage and surfacing Des Arc-Griffithville road, state highway 11.
Calhoun and Bradley counties — 3.7 miles, including bridges, of grading drainage and surfacing of the Harrell-Warren road, state highway 4.
Perry County — Structural steel I-beam bridge and approaches on the Perryville-Benton road, state highway 9.
Pulaski County — 0.214 miles of grading, concrete base, widening and surfacing east side of state capitol grounds in Little Rock.
Garland County — 19 miles of grading, drainage gravel base on the Humphrey Dairy-northwest (county) road.
Pointsett County — 1.7 miles surfacing of the Marked-Tree-north-east (county) road.
Union County — 2.7 miles of grading drainage and surfacing of the Smackover-Southwest (county) road.

Naguib Ousted in Egypt With Nasser Taking Over; Syria's President Also Reported Out

By ROBERT B. HW
CAIRO, Egypt (AP) — Egypt's ruling Revolutionary Council today dropped Maj. Gen. Mohammed Naguib, front man of the uprising that made a republic of this ancient land of the pharaohs, from the presidency and premiership.

The 11 young army officers of the council named as premier Lt. Col. Gamal Abdel Nasser, 36, the tall and handsome driving force of the bloodless coup that ousted King Farouk II from the throne 10 months ago. He has been Naguib's deputy premier.

Nasser also succeeded Naguib as leader of the council. The nation's presidency will remain vacant.

Naguib was in Army-guarded isolation at his simple, five-room home in suburban Helwan. Capt. Galal Faizy, aide to National Guidance Minister Salah Salem, said the revolutionary council "has no intention of taking any measures against Naguib."

However, the army guard always stationed at Naguib's Rome permitted no one to enter and the guard commander said: "Obviously Naguib will avoid leaving the house for the time being." Telephone lines to the house were blocked.

A communiqué from the Revolutionary Council accused Naguib of seeking to draw Egypt "back to absolute dictatorial influence" he was suffering from a "psychological crisis," and reported unanimous acceptance of a resignation it said he submitted Monday.

The action came at a heated, seven-hour night session of the 11 majors and lieutenant colonels who, with Naguib, made up the council. Naguib was absent, reportedly asleep at his home.

LONDON (AP) — North Syria's Aleppo radio claimed today that rebel forces have overthrown Syrian President Gen. Adib Shishli, but the radio station in the capital, Damascus, broadcast normally at midnight and made no mention of any trouble in the Middle East.

A brief dispatch from the associated Press correspondent in Damascus, filed at 11:40 a. m. Damascus time, also made no mention of any trouble in Syria. It reported merely that the resignation of Egyptian President Mohammed Naguib had been announced by Damascus radio and that Shishli was "not available" for comment.

News dispatches from Damascus must pass through censorship there.

People Burn Trash in the Danger Period

By Buster Deaton,
State Forestry Service
This article is in no way intended to be critical of any individual, but is written for the benefit of everyone.

An analysis of the cause of most of the woods and grass fires of this area for the past 20 days, shows that we are not respecting the weather in selecting the days to do our burning. The condition of the weather is a very important factor and should be taken into consideration before starting a field or grass fire.

The record shows that most people try to do their burning on a dry sunny windy day between the hours of 10 a. m. and 3 p. m. In the first place, these hours are the danger period of the day. You have less moisture in the air and your fire burns rapidly and, in most instances, if you get in trouble and need help, most men are away from home at these hours. Early in the morning or late in the afternoon would be a much safer time to do authorized burning and remember a fire line should be constructed before starting the fire. It's much safer to start your fire by setting a string of fire along the line you have built when it will be burning against the wind, not with the wind and if a pair of water with a gunny sack is ready at the point where the fire is most likely to escape, and properly guarded for a few minutes, the escape of the fire can be prevented.

A number of dangerous fires the past week occurred because elderly people were trying to burn off their gardens when a strong wind was blowing, without having built any fire lines to protect their property, whatsoever and the wind philology, became double dangerous because, at this season of the year, it changes very frequently. Therefore, we should try to do our burning when it is very little wind and for the protection of our neighbors, he should be notified of the hours we intend to do the burning so that he will, at least, have a fair chance to protect his property.

With help from the local people, the Forest Rangers from this area were able to save 3 houses and a number of barns and out buildings from fires caused by people doing local burning, who didn't take necessary precautions and disregarded the weather conditions.

Seeks Blevins, Columbus Road Improvements

A committee from Hempstead County will request two road projects at a meeting in Little Rock at 1:30 p. m. today with the Arkansas Highway Commission.

The committee includes Frank McLarty, Judge U. G. Garrett, Ray Lawrence, Chamber of Commerce, Roy Foster of Blevins, Eddie Sutton of near DeAnn, Richard Arnold of DeAnn, a Mr. Harrison, Jim Wilson and C. F. Wade of Columbus.

The group will request completion of Highway 29 from Hope to Blevins, and a farm to market road from Hope to Columbus.

Six Members of Family Perish in House Fire

By The Associated Press
Six members of a Negro family, including the father and mother perished yesterday when an explosion and fire destroyed their two-story tenant home near Hughes, Ark.

Their deaths and a highway fatality near Mount Ida raised to eight the number of persons who have died violently in Arkansas since last Sunday midnight.

The fire victims were: James McMiller, 33; his wife, Hattie, 33; Thomas Peterson, 19, Paul Peterson, 16 Roosevelt McMiller 3 and Mary Jo McMiller, 1. Thomas and Paul were Mrs. McMiller's children by a previous marriage.

Deputy Sheriff L. C. Ramsey said some member of the family apparently threw tractor fuel into a stove, causing the explosion.

The mother and the four youngsters were believed to have been trapped upstairs. The father got out but died when he dashed back into the house in an attempt to save other members of the family.

Five other children escaped. One of them, 17-year-old Julia Peterson, said: "I was in a downstairs room, and the next thing I knew fire had exploded all over."

The McMiller's nearest neighbor lived a half mile away.

The seventh accident victim yesterday was Charley Pearson, 74, of St. Charles, Minn., who was killed when his car overturned on U. S. Highway 270 about four miles west of Mount Ida.

Four other persons in the car were injured, none seriously. The group was en route to Florida.

Stevens Denies Report He Is Resigning But Wants Ike's Backing

Hope-Columbus Highway Work Is Authorized

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The Arkansas Highway Commission today authorized three road projects and two bridges — all comparatively small — at a meeting at which no contracts were let.

One road project is the placing of gravel surfacing on State Highway 73 for the approximate 11.4 miles from an intersection with State Highway 4 to an intersection with State Highway 32 in Hempstead County. Cost was estimated at $26,400.

In Ouachita County, on State Highway 7, similar gravel work will be undertaken for about 11 miles between U. S. Highway 79 and Army at an estimated cost of $10,200.

A third graveling project was authorized for Mississippi County on Highway 181 west and south of Highway 151 at an estimated cost of $23,000. Six miles of the highway are involved.

In Columbia County, Highway Director Herbert Eldridge was authorized "to proceed in the most feasible and economical manner" with reconstruction of a bridge at Big Creek on U. S. Highway 82 at an estimated material cost of $24,200.

In Yell County, the present timber deck on the Arkansas River bridge on Highway 7 at Dandale will be replaced with a steel and concrete deck at an estimated cost of $43,000.

The commission postponed action on a proposal by Eldridge and maintained engineer A. G. Rives that $12,000 of the maintenance allotments for District 5 be used for purchase of seven pieces of equipment for that district. The district's headquarters is at Batesville.

Commissioners agreed that there was nothing illegal about the proposed use of the money but several suggested that a transfer to buy equipment for a specific district might set a precedent.

The commission balked, at least temporarily, on paying $2,880 for an additional 1.41 acres at Springdale to expand the site of the present sub-district headquarters.

Elderly Pair Found Shot to Death

PINE BLUFF, (AP) Two elderly persons a man and a woman were found shot to death in a modest three-room house in the west end of Pine Bluff this morning.

Police identified the victims as W. L. McClellan, who resided in the house, and Mrs. C. C. Clary, McClellan's next-door neighbor.

Police Chief Met Galligher said a shotgun was found lying beside McClellan's body in the living room and that Mrs. Clary's body was found in the kitchen.

Galligher said he believed the deaths to be murder and suicide. He reported that McClellan had been ill and despondent and that Mrs. Clary had been nursing him.

The coroner was summoned to make an investigation.

Congress to Get Ike's Pay Raise Plan

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower's recommendations for pay raises and other benefits for government employees go to Congress today.

There is something in the program for most of the government's 2,350,000 civilian employees, provided Congress enacts it.

Among the presidentially approved proposals Philip Young, chairman of the Civil Service Commission, takes to the Senate, Post Office and Civil Service Committee are:

Asks Support in Opposing McCarthy Abuse

WASHINGTON (UP) — Army Secretary Robert T. Stevens today phoned the White House looking for presidential backing in his feud with Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy. But he "categorically" denied he intends to resign, or what he asked for any public statement of support from President Eisenhower.

A high administration official said Stevens conferred with Sherman Adams, apparently making a personal appointment with Mr. Eisenhower to determine far the administration will support his stand against McCarthy's "unwarranted" abuse of army officers.

But Stevens asserted he did NOT intend to resign. Stevens denied, relayed through a spokesman, John Kane, was "sponsored by a news dispatch" (Associated Press) reporting that Stevens was considering resignation, less he received public backing from the President.

Kane said Stevens denied being "given any insistence on resignation" from the "retaliation" sought by White House newsman makes a statement. Kane said that he had presidential backing. He said the denial was "a result of any telephone conversation with the President."

Stevens said he was "not in a position to make any statement" on this morning.

A high administration official said that Stevens' "disgust" with McCarthy's "abuse" was "a memorandum of understanding" with McCarthy, in which Stevens reversed himself and asked McCarthy to "step back" from the "retaliation" sought by White House newsman makes a statement.

The source said Stevens talked over with the White House the widely interpreted view that he had "capitulated" to McCarthy. Stevens was pictured "steaming mad" over this interpretation and seeking practical aid, assurance he would not be "sacrificed" to McCarthy for sake of future politics.

It was reported that Stevens was urging White House to make some public statement on the situation in an effort to bolster morale which, in the view of the source, sank after McCarthy's "understanding" with McGowan. It was argued that newsmen should be told that Stevens was "not in a position to make any statement."

All Around the Town

A Hempstead group is seeking to get the Highway from Hope to Blevins paved and a farm-to-market road from Hope to Columbus in a meeting today with Highway officials in Little Rock. Bids will soon be let on a 6.7 mile stretch of Highway 67 from the end of the new paving to Texarkana and last week the contract was let for the widening and resurfacing of Highway 67 from Prescott to the Little Missouri river.

The two-year-old Ponder Quads of Murfreesboro now have a new baby sister.

J. W. Griffin of Columbus indicated yesterday he definitely is in the race for sheriff and will announce later. Former sheriff Claude Sutton is expected to toss in his hat soon.

A 2c Billy Dean Womble has just ended a short visit with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. O. K. Womble of Emmet Route One. He is stationed at Keely Air Force Base, Mississippi.

Drouth Turns Rich Lands Into Deserts

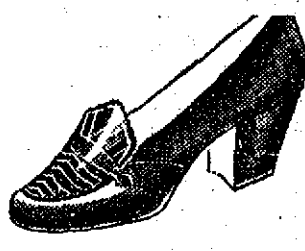

By HARMON KALLMAN
Denver Post Staff Writer
DENVER (AP)—Drought seldom is dramatic. Ordinarily it spreads like a silent cancer. But in south-eastern Colorado today it is a tangible, fearsome force.
You feel the grit between your teeth, between your fingers, in young eyes, even though it may not be blowing. You begin to itch all over with it as you watch mile after mile of fences buried in blown dust and sand, telegraph poles and farm equipment banked high with the powdery stuff that kills rich farmland.
The further south and east you go, the fewer furrows you discern in what was plowed wheat-land a short week ago.
You can drive 100 miles east of here and see little sign of the disastrous dust storm of last week and the blow Monday that added insult to injury.
But once into Hugo, the Lincoln County seat, you know the dust has been there.
This is what I saw when I made a trip into the area:
Just a few miles to the south and the world turned gray. A few hundred yards off main Highway 100 on a section-like road you could see the first bitter evidence.
It looked curiously like an ocean beach with a few weeks rising above the wind-sculptured sand. There was moisture beneath it. Broken cedar fence posts looked like driftwood.
Bob White of Rocky ord, who superintends 70,000 acres of Colorado farmland for the Baughman farms Co. of Liberal, Kan., was driving by.
"This is hardly anything," he said. "Go to Haswell and Eads. It'll break your heart."
"See, this winter wheat is still green, even though it's sick and you can barely see the furrows that were here until last week. With moisture this will still make wheat."
"It's not as bad as it was in Texas in the 1930s, but I've never seen one storm do as much damage as that one last week."
Farther south you noticed that the fences not covered by dunes were blown thick with weeds, like brown hedgerows.
The Old Grind
BUFFALO, N.Y. (UP)—A safer, simpler and easier method of packing grinding wheels for shipment has been developed by the Electro Refractories & Abrasives Corp. which ships the wheels upright in an open rack. Heavy cardboard prevents friction between wheels. Previously grinding wheels were shipped lying flat on top of one another.

look. I don't know exactly when I can move in but if you'll just hold your breath, I'll race right back, put my house on the market and after a few weeks, or months I'll be able to let you know when I'll want your house so that you can then know when you'll be able to occupy the house or apartment or jail you're planning your next move to, can I do that, huh?

"Above all, don't put yourself in the position of where you have to sell," an experienced friend tells me. "You'll take a licking."

"Above all, don't put yourself in the position of where you have to buy," another experienced friend tells me. "You'll pay through the nose for the next one."

The alternative to the first position having to sell is maintaining two houses at the same time and paying mortgages, taxes, insurance, etc., on both. The alternative to the second position having to buy is putting your furniture in storage, living in a hotel long enough to find an apartment you can occupy temporarily while looking for the house you can afford, and meanwhile the bills are piling up, the kids are being scared for life by all the dislocation and pretty soon you can no longer afford the house you thought you could afford in the first place, if you could have found it.

So, what do I do? Do I set up a two-way radio station in my house and then go racing off with a walkie-talkie and the minute I and the next meeting will be in March at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd McClelland.

Refreshments were served to the group.

Knowland Hits Tactics Used by Democrats

By JACK BELL

WASHINGTON, (AP) Sen. Knowland (R-Calif.) angrily accused Democrats of using "slowdown" tactics against President Eisenhower's program after they forced an abrupt Senate adjournment last night, 48-45.

Knowland, the GOP floor leader, told reporters, "It is apparent to me that there has been a filibuster going on to prevent action on this constitutional amendment." He referred to the proposal, offered originally by Sen. Bricker (R-Ohio) and since modified in major respects, to limit treaty powers. The Senate has been debating it most of the time since Jan. 20.

Or, maybe the best thing to do is this: I'll find a house that looks like on I can afford. Then I'll find a prospect who looks like he can afford my house. Then I'll persuade him to buy the house I saw and I'll stay just where we are and one more complaint out of you kids and I'll tell you about when I was a boy and we slept nine to a room, not counting the cats.

see something good flash the word back to my wife who, in the meantime, has been coyly holding a prospect back home without telling him our price?

Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas quickly wanted to know if Knowland believes "the Bricker amendment is a part of the Eisenhower program."

"If so," Johnson asked newsmen, "where does he get his information?"

The White House has fought the Bricker proposal strenuously.

At one stage in their development cells are so transparent that point can be read through their bodies.

NEW YORK STOCKS

NEW YORK, Feb. 23 (AP)—Firmness persisted today in the stock market following a three-day decline.

Prices were up around a point at the outside with the exception of a few issues affected by corporate developments. Losses were small and widely scattered. Major divisions showing up well included railroads, steels, rubbers, electronics, and aircrafts.

NEW YORK COTTON

NEW YORK, Feb. 23 (AP)—Cotton futures drifted lower today on scattered liquidation and hedging, but edge was taken off the market by the latest weekly cotton loan reports which showed for the first time this season loan repossessions exceeded new entries into the loan, thus adding to the free supply of cotton. Late afternoon prices were 15 to 40 cents a bale lower than the previous close, March 34.24, May 34.27 and July 34.19.

GRAIN AND PROVISIONS

CHICAGO, Feb. 23 (AP)—Most grains eased on the Board of Trade today although wheat sold at higher prices throughout much of the session. The trading pace was considerably slower than on other days this week.

Reports of dust in the air in several places in Kansas stirred up a little demand for new crop wheat futures while the old crop contracts were helped by prospect of exports to West Germany, Yugoslavia and Korea.

Enough profit taking entered soybeans to prevent them from making any sharp gains.

Wheat closed 3/4 to 1 cent higher March $2.17-2.17 1/4, corn unchanged to 3/4 lower, March $1.50 1/2, oats 1 1/2 lower to 1 cent higher, March $3.34-3.35.

Check was being used. "Mr. Danuser did not conspire with me in any way to get this money from the county and he had no way of knowing whether or not I had the full amount of the check coming to me in treasury commissions because I had mentioned to him that I was not married and had no family and had been able to carry a reserve of my treasury commissions from previous years.

"Any statement made contrary to this, or to the effect that Roy S. Danuser had knowledge that I did not have the money coming to me or that he advised me to withdraw money improperly from the county, are not true."

Other witnesses heard by the jury were Aubrey McCasland, director of county audits of the State Finance Department W. A.

KIDNEYS MUST REMOVE EXCESS WASTE

Nagging backache, loss of pep and energy, headaches and dizziness may be due to slow down of kidney function. Doctors say good kidney function is very important to good health. When some everyday condition, such as stress and strain, causes this important function to slow down, many folks suffer nagging backache—feel miserable. Minor bladder irritations due to cold or wrong diet may cause getting up nights or frequent passages. Don't neglect your kidneys if these conditions bother you. Try Doan's Pills—a mild diuretic. Used successfully by millions for over 60 years. It's amazing how many times Doan's give happy relief from these discomforts—help the immediate kidney tubes and filters flush out waste. headlines picturing Stevens as having yielded to McCarthy were bound to affect army morale adversely.

Meanwhile, it was learned that Vice President Richard M. Nixon had telephoned Stevens Tuesday about his feud with McCarthy and that this was followed up by a telephone call from Sen. Karl E. Mundt (R-SD) suggesting yesterday's meeting with McCarthy and GOP members of his subcommittee.

Nixon made a lengthy, unannounced visit to the White House today, presumably in connection with the Stevens-McCarthy issue. White House Press Secretary James C. Hagerty said Stevens talked with him and several other members of Mr. Eisenhower's staff last night.

Way Cleared for Approval of Warren

By JOHN CHADWICK

WASHINGTON (AP) A 12-3 committee vote cleared the way today for speedy Senate confirmation of Earl Warren as chief justice of the United States.

Sen. Knowland of California, the Republican floor leader, said he planned to take President Eisenhower's nomination of Warren up in the Senate tomorrow. "I believe the Senate will give the chief justice an overwhelming vote of coincidence," he added.

No senator, not even any of the three who voted against committee clearance, has said publicly he will vote against confirming Warren's appointment.

The Republican governor of California has been serving on the Supreme Court since last October under an interim appointment made while Congress was in adjournment.

His nomination to succeed the late Fred M. Vinson in the nation's highest judicial office was submitted to the Senate for confirmation on Jan. 11, but it was only yesterday that the Senate Judiciary Committee reported it favorably.

The committee acted after a day-long session at which its only witness was taken into custody by police on a complaint that he was a fugitive from a California charge of subornation of perjury—inducing someone to lie under oath. He later was released, however, by a municipal judge. The vote to recommend confirmation of Warren's nomination was 12-3, with Senators Kilgore (D-WVa.), Eastland (D-Miss) and Olin D. Johnston (D-SC) casting the opposition votes.

The United States population gain in the past eight years is more than a third greater than the entire population of Canada.

The metric system of measurements — meter, gram, litre — was first set up by France more than a century and a half ago.

The American Heart Association estimates that the United States has about 700,000 deaths annually from heart trouble.

200 HP makes
BUICK's CENTURY
the power buy of the year!

The sensational Buick Century is available for 1954 in a full line of models, including the completely new all-steel 4-door, 6-passenger Estate Wagon shown here.

It has sports-car smartness and sports-car snap.

It combines sports-car compactness with Buick roominess - six-passenger big.

And for sports-car performance, this spectacular CENTURY rolls off the assembly line with a 200-hp V8 engine and a trim 3852 pounds - highest power-to-weight ratio in Buick history.

But what does all that horsepower get you?

It gets you brilliant performance. It gets you more economy. It gets you added safety.

At the wheel of a Buick CENTURY, you find getaway more responsive, cruising more pleasant, hill-climbing so nimble you feel you're on the level. Your engine is normally working at just a fraction of its capacity. You have a tremendous power reservoir to call on in sudden emergencies.

And beyond this, you have the lowest-cost automotive horsepower in the land. For in the popular-priced Buick CENTURY, you are buying more horsepower per dollar than you get in any other car in America.

Come in and try this glamorous new Buick beauty soon. It's by all odds, the power buy of the year.

Army Knew About Peress About Months

WASHINGTON (AP)—Where did the Army first learn Dr. Irving Peress commissioned a captain and promoted to major would not answer questions about subversive organizations to which he might have belonged.

Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis.) in an uproar with the Army over the case, seems to think it wasn't until last August after Peress had been in service many months. McCarthy complains that the Army kept him on five months longer.

Actually—according to the Pentagon—Peress refused to answer two months before he was called to active duty, but was called nevertheless, and remained in service 13 months.

On Feb. 1, in a letter to Secretary of the Army Robert T. Stevens, McCarthy protested that Peress refused to answer a questionnaire last August was promoted to major in October and was honorably discharged this month.

This was the information given by a Pentagon spokesman on Peress, a New York dentist, whom McCarthy calls a "Fifth Amendment Communist."

The Army, hearing dentists during the Korean War, commissioned Peress a captain Oct. 15, 1952, and on Oct. 27 and 28, 1952, gave him three questionnaires about membership in subversive organizations. Peress refused to answer, citing the Fifth Amendment, which says a man can't be forced to give information which might tend to incriminate him.

Two months later, Jan. 7, 1953, Peress was called to active duty. On Oct. 23, 1953 he was made a major. On Dec. 3, 1953, the Army decided to release him. Why? In a letter to McCarthy on Feb. 16, 1953, Stevens said: Peress' case had "come to the Army's attention" and he was being let out because of his "unwillingness to submit loyalty information."

Since he had refused the information two months before he was called to active duty, why did this case have to be called to the attention of the Army which already had it? Repeated inquiries at the Pentagon last night failed to get an answer.

Stevens conceded in his letter to McCarthy that under the doctors draft law "it has unfortunately been possible in the past for commissions to be tendered to individuals who might be undesirable."

Although the decision to discharge Peress was made last Dec. 30, he was not notified until Jan. 18. Then he was told he would be released no later than April. He was free to resign before then.

Eight days later, Jan. 30, McCarthy called Peress before his Senate investigations subcommittee and said later the dentist, still an Army major, had cited the Fifth Amendment in refusing to answer questions about Communist connections. McCarthy never explained how he learned about Peress' case.

Three days later, on Feb. 2, McCarthy announced he had written Stevens the day before demanding immediate court-martial of Peress and investigation and possible court-martial of Peress and investigation and possible court-martial of those officers "who had full knowledge of his Communist activities and either took no steps to have him removed or were responsible for his promotion thereafter."

That same day, Feb. 2, Peress stepped out of the Army at his own request with an honorable discharge.

Stevens was in the Far East while this was happening. When he returned he wrote McCarthy on Feb. 16 that court-martial of Peress now was "impracticable" because, first, he was out of the Army, and second "the Army does not have available facts on which sound charges could be made."

There seems to be no question of spying in this case, Peress, as a dentist, had an insensitive job, although McCarthy says he was recruiting for communism. Stevens assured the senator he was investigating to see whether there was "conspiracy" in

Photographer Has Memories of Top Stars

By BOB HOMAS
HOLLYWOOD (AP)—As MGM celebrates its 30th birthday, a man with rich memories is Clarence Bull.

For more than 30 years, he has been photographing the MGM stars, from Garbo to Gardner. In the early days he not only operated the movie camera but shot the still pictures as well. Eventually he became the studio's top portrait photographer, reaching his highest fame as Garbo's pet lensman.

Many Hollywood beauties have passed before his camera during the past three decades. I asked him to list his favorite subjects, and he named these:

Greta Garbo—"I course."
Jean Harlow—"She had an excellent face and figure; easy to get along with."

Gloria Swanson—"A fool proof face."

Marlene Dietrich—"A dream to work with. She had once been a beautiful gal she even showed the retouchers how to do their work."

Joan Crawford—"We never could agree on her lips. She wanted them exaggerated, and I always cut them down in the retouching."

Norma Shearer—"She's still as beautiful as the starlets. She was often confused by too much advice; then she'd toss it all aside and make the right decision herself."

Jeanette MacDonald—"Perfectly natural. There was nothing phony about her."

Lana Turner—"Still a real beauty."

Ava Gardner—"She comes the closest to Harlow as a real personality."

Ann Blyth—"A perfect face, but an interesting one."

Katharine Hepburn—"A distinctive type; very interesting face."

Eleanor Parker—"The sexiest of the new crop of stars."

There were others, too, like Hedy Lamar, Louise Rainer, Greer Garson, etc. But Bull talked most readily about Garbo.

"I shot some of the first photos of Garbo after she arrived in this country," he recalled. "We went to the beach for some pictures and even took her down to LSC to pose with the football team. She never said anything but just did what people told her."

"During our first portrait sitting, I don't know who was more scared, she or I. I'd never say anything to her, and she didn't speak either. She'd watch my face, and if I would frown, she'd know I didn't like the pose. If I smiled, she knew it was all right and she held still for the picture."

"She was very punctual. If we had a date in the still gallery for 9 o'clock in the morning, she'd be there at 8:45. She posed beautifully. Of 100 shots, sometimes only four would be killed."

Beef Country
WELLINGTON N. Z. (UP)—Contrary to popular belief about New Zealanders' eating tastes lamb is not their first choice. It's beef. Government statistics show New Zealanders eat 109.9 pounds of beef per capita and only 66.2 pounds of mutton with lamb "way down the list at 10.5 pounds."

handling Peress and that he was tightening up Army procedures to see that nothing like this happened again. Stevens said in future similar case a reserve officer will be discharged under other than honorable conditions.

On Feb. 18—two days after Stevens wrote his letter and 14 days after Peress had left the Army—McCarthy called the dentist before his subcommittee and said later he had refused to answer 33 questions.

At this same session McCarthy quizzed Brig. Gen. Ralph W. Zwicker commander of Camp Kilmer, N. J., where Peress had been stationed. Zwicker refused to answer questions about Peress' Army career. He said he was forbidden to by an executive order instructing officers not to answer security questions outside the executive department.

Zwicker complained he was insulted by McCarthy. Stevens ordered Army officers not to appear before McCarthy. He said he'd testify himself. He's due to face McCarthy Thursday.

Surplus Sales Bring More Indictments

WASHINGTON — (UP) The Justice Department announced today that a federal grand jury here has indicted 18 individuals and even corporations in connection with the purchase and later resale of surplus tankers.

The indictments were returned by the grand jury in April, 1933. But they remained sealed by the court until today, when the Justice Department decided that defendants not in this country are not likely to return.

Among the defendants were Stavros Niarchos, fabulously wealthy Greek shipowner; Julius C. Holmes, former U. S. minister to Great Britain; and former R. P. Casey (D-Mass.).

Casey and Aristoteles S. Onassis, a relative of Niarchos, were indicted earlier this month on charges of making false statements in connection with the purchase of surplus vessels in the postwar period.

Most of the new defendants were charged with conspiring to violate the law against making false statements to the government. Some were accused of breaking terms of a purchase contract for five tankers by changing the ownership of the tankers without U. S. government approval.

Besides Niarchos, Holmes and Casey, those named in the various indictments were:

Mary Dracopoulos, a sister of Niarchos, who is reportedly living in New York.

George N. Emmanuel and Constantine Emmanuel, who, like Niarchos, has been living abroad since the start of the grand jury investigation.

Ambrose Capparisi, George Trypanis, David Dorn, Robert A. Murphy and Ralph R. Matregrano, officers of employees of the North American Shipping & Trading Co., Inc. all live in the New York area.

Charles Augenthaler and Hugh Reid, partners in Simpson, Spence & Young, New York shipping agents.

Edwin J. Maas, of New York, former comptroller of North American.

E. Stanley Klein, New York financier.

Delmon M. White, San Pedro, Cal., vice president of the American Pacific Steamship Co.

Willard Walker, Washington, D. C., director of American Pacific.

The seven corporations named in the indictments were:

Why This Wondrous Envy of the Husband's Outside World? Many Wives Seek That Secret

By SAUL PETT

For Hal Boyle

NEW YORK — The other night I saw a very funny play called "Oh, Men! Oh, Women!"

It concerns a young wife who is unhappy although her husband is a successful actor, loves her, is faithful and is a good provider. She has a nurse for the kids, a cook, maids, gardener, the works.

So, feeling bored and useless, she goes to a psychoanalyst and after a few sessions decides maybe she ought to assert her independence. She suggests a trial separation to her husband.

Being a reasonable man, he blows his top gets loaded and tracks down the analyst.

Why, the lurching actor asks the doctor, do so many modern women feel unimportant and useless in the important job of running a house and raising children? Why do they envy those in the "outside" world? What do they think they're missing?

"And, finally, doctor," the actor shouts, "tell me this. Tell me, what's on the outside?"

At this point, both men and women, from the $6.00 seats to the last $1.00 seats in the balcony, roared with laughter and stopped the show with wild applause. It was clear the play had struck home in many homes.

Obviously, while few wives have cooks or nurses or psychoanalysts, many wives have the same feeling of being unimportant and useless missing something. Why this wondrous envy of the mysterious world on the outside, into which husbands all over this country disappear every morning?

In the play, the doctor never answered the question. So let's face it right here and now. Just what is on the outside?

True, the outside has its rises and falls, its triumphs and setbacks, its men who get a $10 raise or are promoted to vice president or find a polio vaccine or win a Nobel prize. But do wives really know how seldom this happens?

Mostly the outside is millions of men shaving, cramming down the last piece of toast, rushing off to be herded like cattle into the cities in crowded commuter trains and buses. Do they go gaily off, as to a great adventure? They do not. They shuffle off, half-asleep, numbed by the hypnotic motion of sameness, driven by unseen whips.

The outside is millions of men at the office glumly picking through the morning mail, growling over new memos from the boss. The outside is millions of men beginning another unglamorous day, reacting to the pressures of half-submerged ambitions, to the pressures of their boss, to the real or fancied competition of their development.

The outside, is the mid-morning coffee break which they have; not because they want coffee, but because there lurks the hope that, somehow, five minutes away from the desk will bring new solutions, new stimulation, new horizons. It doesn't.

The outside is millions of men talking shop at lunch, dissecting what old T. J. said or what old

T. J.'s secretary said and the way they said it and what they meant. The outside is lunch talk about stocks or options or the raise the new man got and the eternal threat that one day soon, unless the company comes through, by gosh, I'm going to make a break. It is dialogue that is no more refreshing, imaginative or soul-statisfying than wives' talk about formulas, BMS, new detergents or how could that woman ever afford a huge new sectional couch that must have cost $900 and on his salary!

The outside is millions of men coming back from too much lunch, half-heartedly flirting with the pretty receptionist or secretary, and 99.9 per cent of the time either party would be surprised and a little frightened if anything came of it. This is a semi-automatic maneuver that goes with manhood, a token gesture made to hold on to the franchise.

The outside is millions of men leaving a crowded desk at night with a sense of unfulfillment, millions of men being herded back to the cattle cars, dully reading the evening papers, making perfunctory conversation, secretly wondering when the fun begins.

So relax, girls. The outside is just the inside out.

When an earthquake hit San Francisco in 1906, nearby land slipped sideways 21 feet.

Security Chief Is Drawing Jeers, Cheers

By BEM PRICE

MCLAD CARRIES

WASHINGTON — Robert Walter Scott McLeod, the State Department security chief who is making headlines in the political arena with line plunges and end runs while the stands cheer and jeer.

It began with the Republicans cheering and the Democrats jeering as McLeod, a husky 39-year-old with a hide as tough as a hippo's, ripped through the State Department in search of Communists and security risks.

Now some Democrats are beginning to smile. After McLeod's series of Lincoln Day speeches for the Republican party they think he may be an embarrassment to the party. McLeod himself is wondering if he hasn't become something of a problem to the Republicans.

In respect he believes his speaking tour may have been "ill-advised." He frankly says that since he became a target of the Democrats he may be dropped from his $15,000 a-year job which bears the title: administrator of the Bureau of Security, Consular Affairs and Personnel.

McLeod unquestionably has aroused the ire of Democrats. Rep. Emanuel Celler (D-N.Y.), for example, characterized him as a "party hucker canvassing votes." It's improper, said Celler, "for anyone who holds so sensitive a position at the security office to enter the hurly-burly of the political arena."

On the other hand, the man who hired him, Under Secretary of State Donald Lamb, thinks this former Iowa newspaperman, FBI agent and senatorial aide is doing a great job.

"You can't have a mamby-pamby in that job," he told me. "It takes guts, and Scott's got 'em. If Scotty thinks he's right, he plows ahead."

Below the department's executive level the name of Robert Walter Scott McLeod is greeted with Arctic silence. There exists a very real fear of him.

McLeod shakes his graying, closely cropped head over this and says he just can't understand people fear him or his administration. He says the criterion is whether he is a Democrat or a Republican. "I consider him a guy who wants to have the authority to run the State Department, and the stand that if you don't like a duck, you can't have a duck," he says.

Would you trade a Penny for a Dollar?

● You can if you use Natural Chilean Nitrate of Soda for your top-dressing and side-dressing needs. It costs a little more because it's worth more. But the difference in cost usually can be measured in pennies per acre, while the difference in value often amounts to dollars per acre.

Chilean "Bulldog" Soda gives you generous extra value. The nitrogen is 100 per cent nitrate. It's 100 per cent available (quick-acting); 100 per cent dependable. The minor elements make crops stronger, healthier. The sodium—26 pounds in every 100-pound sack—is a key to maximum returns on your entire fertilizer investment. It offsets the bad effects of acid-forming fertilizers...increases the efficiency of mixed fertilizers containing them. It releases "locked-up" potash in the soil...increases the availability and efficiency of soil phosphate...reduces potash, calcium and magnesium losses by leaching...develops larger, deeper root systems.

Sodium builds up the productivity of your land—more each year. It's an essential element for some crops...beneficial to most and necessary for maximum yields of many.

Pennies-per-acre difference in cost may mean dollars-per-acre difference in value to you. Chilean "Bulldog" Soda is the best fertilizer your money can buy. Use it for all of your top-dressing and side-dressing needs.

Girl From Hot Springs Wins $1,000 Lion Oil Scholarship

"Straight A" Student Wins On First Try—15 Other Arkansas Students Earn $25 Merit Awards in Zone "A"

A $1,000 college scholarship was caught up with attractive Sherry Kaffka, daughter of the Rev. and Mrs. Leonard Kaffka, at Joiner, Arkansas, Sherry, 17, was a senior at Lakeview High School, Hot Springs, when she sent in her first entry in the Lion Oil Student Essay Contest just completed. By the time the judges had named her a winner, she was a senior at the high school in Joiner, Arkansas, where her father had been transferred to a new pastorate. The official presentation was made at Lakeside High School, where Mrs. J. M. Eastburn, Sherry's English teacher, had suggested that Sherry enter the contest. The Joiner school is the 14th Sherry has attended. In the words of her Hot Springs teacher, Sherry is "very talented—a student leader."

Mrs. Eastburn, who received $200 cash for encouraging the winner, had sponsored only one other entrant in the Lion Oil Essay Contests. Praise for the Lion Oil Scholarship Program was voiced by Mrs. Max Lamb, superintendent of Lakeside. He received $100 cash to purchase books for the high school library.

Ninety other high school students and teacher sponsors in three zones received $25 cash Merit Awards. Essays for this contest were on the subject: "What I Would Tell An Immigrant About America." Since 1926, when the Scholarship Program began, Southern students, teachers, and schools have been awarded 99 prizes worth more than $82,000.

Tennessee Boy, Mississippi Girl Win in Zones "B" and "C"

Glenn Tyler, 18, is a senior in Lexington High School, Lexington, Tenn. An outstanding leader and an A-plus student, Glenn wants to use his $1,000 scholarship to study chemical engineering at either Memphis State College or the University of Tennessee.

LaNelle Garner, 17-year-old senior in Houston High School, Houston, Mississippi, is a superior scholar and a student council representative. She will use her $1,000 scholarship to major in English at Mississippi State College for Women, as she wants to be a high school English teacher.

4th Student Contest Closes March 8

The current and last Lion Oil Student Essay Contest of the 1933-34 season closes March 8. The subject is "What I Would Tell An Immigrant About America." Awards include three $1,000 scholarships, forty-five Merit Awards of $25 each, and $100 cash prizes to scholarship winners' schools. Teachers/sponsors of winners also share in prizes. For complete information, get rules booklets from your principal, from your Lion Oil Dealer, or write the Lion Oil Scholarship Fund, El Dorado, Arkansas.

Teacher Contest Now Being Judged—The teacher essay contest on "What Are My Responsibilities As A Teacher?" closed February 15, and the judges are now at work determining the winners. In the announced March 31, the winner will receive $1,200 graduate scholarship, and other awards are $400 cash, $200 travel grants, and thirty-three $75 cash Merit Awards.

Why Scholarship Fund Was Established

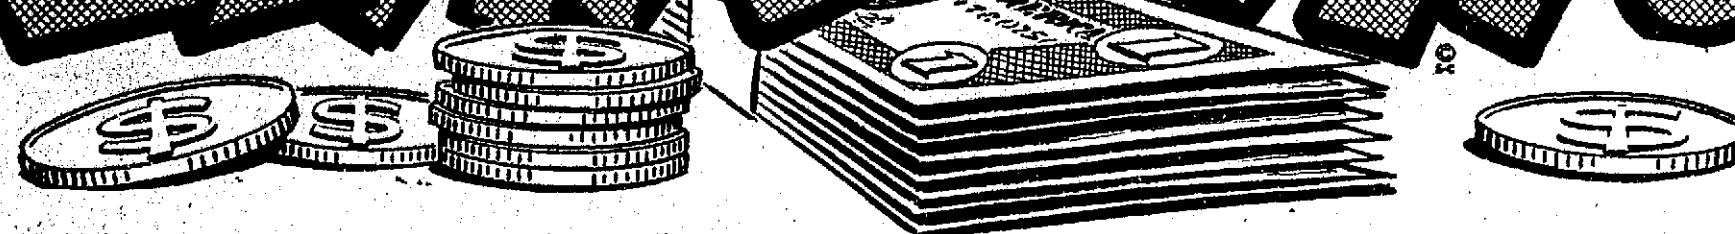

Lion Oil is an integral part of the South, and more than 2,700 people who reside annually over $14,000,000 in wages and benefits. Lion Oil manufactures more than 140,000,000 gallons of products which keep the wheels of industry, transportation and agriculture moving. Lion Oil's generous funders wish the well-to-do farmers, the South's farmers, to have a better crop and better crop.

The Scholarship Fund is Lion Oil Company's way of saying, "We believe in the South, and we want to help it grow and prosper."
